<Char_Desc_2000>Time control may sound like a science fiction term, but in fact this is one of the most essential elements of a successful business in our hectic, time-pressed world. Customer satisfaction directly depends on the ability of a company to produce the requested product or service of the necessary quality and on scheduled time. You can hire a host of talented experts and provide them with the best working environment and tools, but their productivity may well be below the desired level. This is the point when scrupulous analysis of your employees' activities may be required. Have you been wondering about a comfortable way to monitor your employees' activities, assess their productivity and generate reports reflecting the actual state of things in your company? Look no further, for you have just found this tool! It is called WorkTime Inspector and it will solve your problems in no time!

WorkTime Inspector is a compact, but powerful tool designed for advanced monitoring of personal and employees' time. This is not a simple time tracker that merely calculates the difference between the log-out and log-in time - quite the opposite, WorkTime Inspector was designed for flexible and targeted time monitoring! For instance, WorkTime inspector can tell you how long one of your employees has been using Media Player to watch movies or chatting in ICQ. You will be able to identify discrepancies between you employees' reports and the actual statistics available in HTML, TXT and XML formats and 7 report types. With WorkTime Inspector, you can even group programs and see how much time was spent on multimedia or communication software alone!
